

COOKIE POLICY

Sweet Integrity™

Effective date: October 13, 2026

1. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that websites may store on your device. Similar technologies may also store information or access information on your device. These technologies can help a website function, maintain security, and remember your preferences.

2. How We Use Cookies

Sweet Integrity™ operates an informational website using WordPress. Depending on the features enabled on our Website, we and our service providers may use cookies or similar technologies for essential website functions, security, and remembering user preferences.

We do not currently intentionally use website analytics or advertising tracking tools. We will update this policy if our practices change.

3. Types of Cookies

The cookies used on our Website depend on the WordPress configuration, active plugins, hosting services, and third-party features.

Strictly necessary cookies: May support essential functions, such as security or account authentication where applicable.

Preference cookies: May remember settings or choices where such features are enabled.

Analytics or advertising cookies: We do not currently intentionally use these categories. If we introduce them, we will update this policy and implement any required consent or opt-out mechanisms.

4. Third-Party Cookies

Certain third-party features or services embedded in our Website may use their own cookies or similar technologies. We will identify relevant providers and purposes as appropriate based on the services actually used on our Website.

5. Your Choices

You can manage cookies through your browser settings. Where applicable law requires consent for non-essential cookies, we will seek consent before those technologies are activated. You can change your preferences through the available cookie settings on our Website.

Where applicable privacy laws provide additional choices concerning online tracking, we will honor those choices as required by law.

6. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Cookie Policy when our Website, technologies, or legal obligations change. Updates will be posted on this page with a revised effective date.
